

GULFLANDER

An iconic outback rail journey

2025

All aboard the legendary Gulflander

Discover the incredible Gulf Savannah country aboard the Gulflander, a 1950s railmotor, with experiences from Normanton or Croydon. From wetlands and grasslands to the arid Savannah, travel along the heritage-listed railway line.

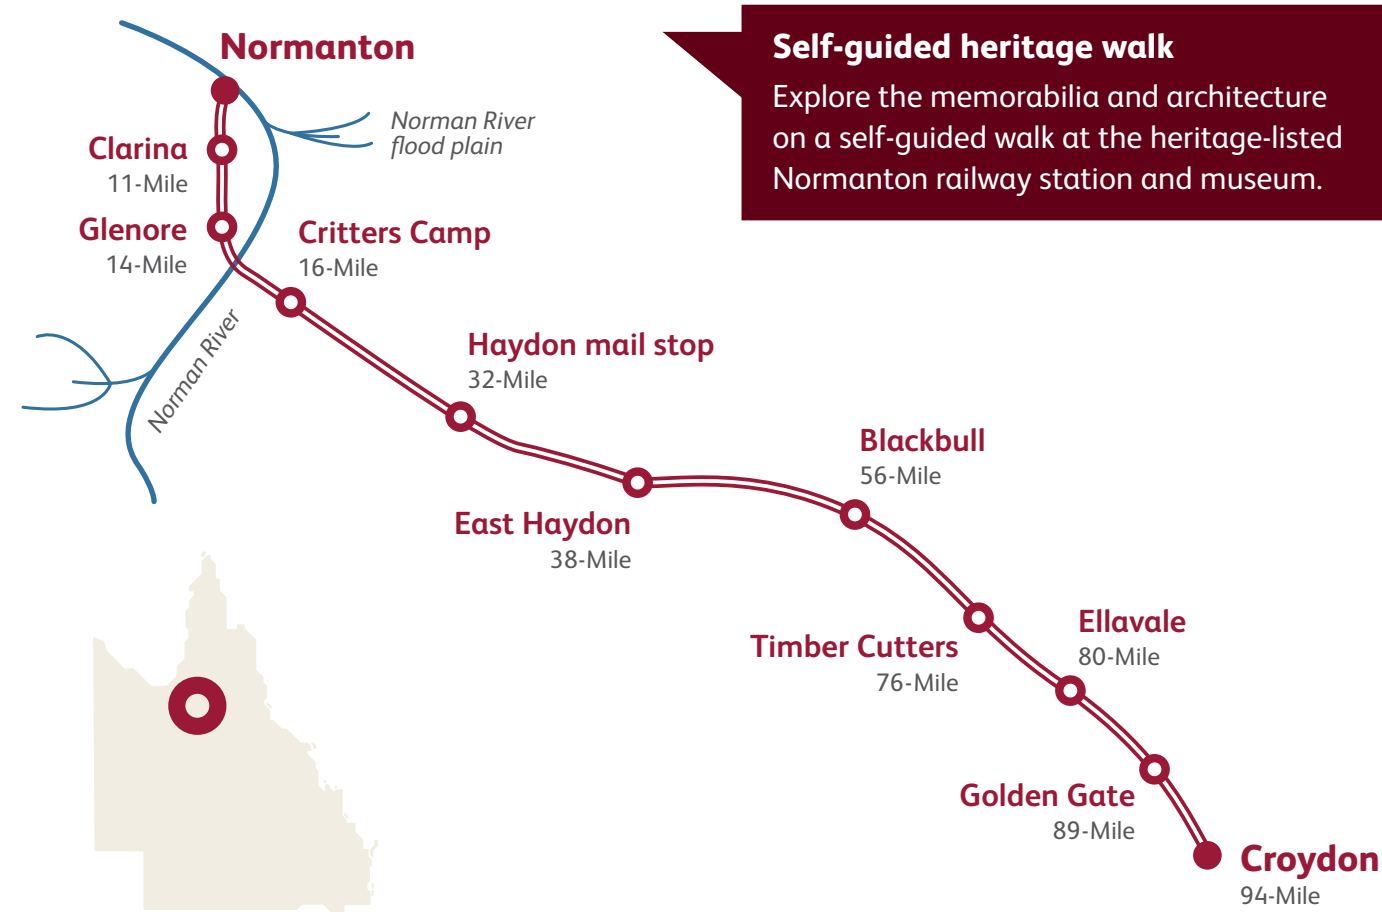

Affectionately known as the train that goes "from nowhere to nowhere" the line opened in 1891 to connect the once bustling port of Normanton to the gold fields of Croydon. It remains the only line in Queensland still measured in miles. The construction of the line is an ingenious engineering feat built to withstand almost anything – including floods and termites. Even today, the line retains most of the original rail and sleepers.

A trip on the Gulflander is more than a rail journey – it's a living piece of Queensland history. A once in a lifetime experience for young and old, and a must-do when travelling in the Gulf Savannah region.

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the Country over which the Gulflander traverses, the Gkuthaarn People and the Tagalaka People. We also recognise and respect the historical connections of other groups around the Croydon, Normanton and Karumba areas. This includes the Kukatj People and Kurtija People, who have strong historical links to the Normanton area and areas along which the Gulflander travels, noting their historical dislocation from traditional Country.

We pay respect to Elders past, present and future and acknowledge their spiritual connection to the lands and waterways.

We ask that their ancestors watch over us as we tread lightly on Country.
